RP (Round Product) Accessory for Automatic Coating Systems

The perfect way to prepare and serve fresh-breaded products!

The all-new RP accessory from Bettcher is specially designed to prepare and serve round-profile menu items such as:

- Meatballs
- Cheese curds and poppers
- Rice balls
- Mushrooms and other veggies
- Latin American and Asian foods

In fact, the RP accessory easily accommodates any-sized round-profile food product up to 3" in diameter.

Scoop Up the Savings!

With the RP accessory, cooks can load scoops of product into the batter tank for fast, efficient coating – no need to drop in each food product individually. That saves precious prep time and improves work efficiencies across-the-board.

The RP accessory is particularly well-suited for commissary applications that utilize extruders directly into your batter breading machines.

Easily Accessorize Your Existing Breading Machines!

The RP accessory is available on all new ACS Automatic Coating Systems. What's more, it can be easily retrofit to existing ACS and ABB Automatic Batter Breader Machines in your kitchen ... so you can take advantage of these powerful performance improvements without having to invest in new machines.

#1 Pour batter mix into the extra-large batter tank.

#2 Pour your signature-fresh dry ingredients mixture into the breading container.

#3 Drop food products into the batter – individually or in clumps.

Fresh-breaded Round-Profile Products:

It's as easy as 1-2-3 ➡

Not only does our RP accessory make it easier to prepare fresh-breaded menu offerings, it makes life easier in the kitchen!

- Save on ingredients while preparing better, more consistent foods.
- Save time and labor by preparing more foods faster.
- The RP accessory removes and reattaches easily for product changes and cleaning.

Fresh Is Best!

Bettcher ACS machines are the best, most consistent way to prepare appetizing breaded foods your customers will crave. And our new RP accessory makes it easier than ever!
